FOREWORD

In this 1935 Quill we have attempted to give you a review of the school life of the last year in such a way as to insure the recognition which it merits. In collecting this material and data, we have attempted to sift out the items of lesser importance.

In turning out this annual, we believe that we have done our best and in this frame of mind submit it for your approval.

Dedication

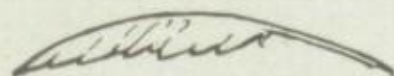

To those pioneers who on April 13, 1635, founded the Boston Public Latin School, the forerunner of our present system of free education, and to that army of individuals who through the past three centuries have helped nurture and develop the American System of Public Education, we dedicate this Quill of 1935.

Board of Education

The efficient administration of the Public Schools of Fairfield devolves upon the shoulders of those men who constitute the Board of Education. The membership of this board is composed of five men, who collectively bring a background of wide and successful business and professional experience with which to attack the problems constantly facing them. During these times of business and financial instability and unrest, these men have met and solved many of the same problems that have caused many industries to crumble and fall. That these difficulties have been attacked successfully cannot be denied, nor can they be attributed to selfish motives of gain or loss, but rather to an unselfish desire as parents and citizens to see this community benefited by an efficient system of public education.

The retiring members of the board, Mr. W. B. Parrett who served nine consecutive years and Mr. Wm. Follen who served six consecutive years were replaced by Mr. Eugene Fleming and Dr. J. V. H. Schantz. To the retiring members the student body extends a vote of thanks and to the incoming members a pledge of constructive co-operation.

Fairfield High School Song

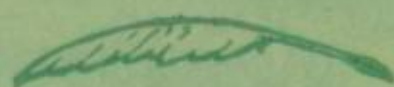

*To Fairfield High, the school we love,
We'll sing a song of praise;
Tell of her many victories won
And high her banners raise.
We'll glorify our Fairfield High
And work for her with zest
And show to all the world around
Old Fairfield High is best.*

*We are a jolly student band;
We stand for loyalty
And all with one accord we'll cheer
Our team to victory.
And when our high school days are o'er,
We never will forget
The cheers we gave together there;
Yes, we can hear them ringing yet.*

Chorus—

*So let's join in and cheer, rah! rah!
While we are gathered here, rah! rah! rah!
Cheer for old Fairfield High!
Laud her to the sky!
For we are ready to fight, with all our might,
For her honor and fame and her glorious name;
So cheer, cheer, cheer for dear old Fairfield High.*

Honor Roll

To place on the honor roll is a position which any graduate of the school may well be proud. In order to attain this recognition, a student must average at least a "B" for the four years. The valedictorian this year, Dorothy Turner, has achieved the enviable position of an average of 4.98 out of a possible 5.00. She received only one grade lower than "A," a "B" in a half-credit subject. Ruth Allen and Quentin Bates at the time this goes to press are tied for salutatorian with but one "B" apiece.

The names on the Honor Roll exclude the average of the last semester of the senior year. Those on this roll are:

Ruth Allen
Ned Baker
Joy Bangs
Quentin Bates
Ruth Bonnell
Ruth Bower

The High School Band

Although several good musicians were lost in graduation last June, the level of musicianship as a whole has been raised in the band this year. Several promising young grade school musicians were added to round out the instrumentation. Yet the band was lacking almost entirely in some of the foundational instruments, and the middle voices weren't as complete as they should have been in the brass. The solo instruments were particularly outstanding except the flute section, which hasn't recovered since its loss several years ago. The double-reeds put on the best showing Fairfield High has ever had.

At the first of the school year the mothers of instrumental music students in the public school system organized the Fairfield Public School Musical Auxiliary, whose primary purpose was the raising of a fund to purchase modern uniforms and musical equipment for the band. One step has been accomplished, and now the band is attired not in faded, weather-stained capes but in new military-style caps and coats. The band owes it a deep debt of gratitude and thanks for its aid and assistance throughout the year.

But let us look ahead. Next year we won't be hearing the thunder of Howell's bass, the squawk of Stortz's oboe, our big gob-sticks, Laurier, McClain, Hendricks and Nady, over the blast of all the little gobsticks. But we will have left Kay Thoma to lead all the little gobsticks on and young Ted to perpetuate the squawk and don't let me forget our bass section under the commandership of Eliel and his battered old brass.

High School Orchestra

This year's orchestra may be said to have been one of the best the high school has produced. The instrumentation was complete. The first violins, all veterans of two or more years, gave a wonderful showing, while the second violins, less experienced, were up and coming. The violas and violin-cellos reached the culmination of several years work to bring them to a level of musicianship with the violins. The bass viols performed in a good degree in conjunction with the tuba. A complete balance was made by the addition of the finest of the woodwinds and brass in the band. Since not many of the numbers performed this year required drums, few requests were made of the band's percussion section for assistance.

Showing the heights of accomplishment reached this year in music, the orchestra performed Beethoven's Fifth Symphony at the music department's concert late in March. Although coming out of the District Music Contest with an equivalent of third place, the judges' criticisms were all complimentary, showing all that was needed was excellence of a higher degree.

Lost in graduation will be about a third of the string section, but the instrumental balance will still be maintained by addition of promising grade school violinists next fall.

Debate

The first tournament participated in was the Bloomfield meet. There were thirteen teams entered from Southern Iowa and Northern Missouri. Both our affirmative and negative teams won their way to these semi-finals. The negative team, composed of Christine Pedrick and Vannas Little, represented Fairfield in the final debate and won the decision, thus winning the tournament, while the affirmative team, composed of Virginia Van Nostrand and Ned Baker, retired undefeated.

The first state debate contest was the pre-district tournament held at Oskaloosa. Virginia Van Nostrand and Ned Baker upholding the affirmative won through the tournament and were eligible to represent Fairfield in the district meet held at Iowa City. In the district meet the F.H.S. debaters were eliminated after winning four and losing four debates.

The season was closed with the annual Iowa Nine Association tournament which was held in Iowa City. This group composed of Burlington, Davenport, Iowa City, Muscatine, Washington, Ottumwa, Ft. Madison, Keokuk and Fairfield furnishes the highest type of competition offered to the high schools of Iowa. The Fairfield teams ranked fifth by winning seven of the sixteen debates in which they participated.

Although many of the students who studied debate were unable to represent Fairfield in the state and Iowa Nine tournaments, they were given inter-scholastic participation in practice debate meetings and undoubtedly laid the foundation for tournament team work in coming years.

Declamatory

Through the efforts of Mr. Whittington and the forensic students, a good array of talent was exhibited this year, with the underclassmen promising a prosperous season next year also.

The first major contest of the year was the Boys' Iowa Nine held at Fort Madison, January 18. Fairfield's representatives were Robert Williamson in the oratorical section, Robert Fligg in the dramatic, and Roy Bates in the humorous. Williamson won the coveted first place gold medal giving his oration: "Ask Your Undertaker!"

The Girls' Iowa Nine followed on February 6, at Keokuk. Pauline Coleson won the oratorical division, Catherine Clark in the dramatic, and Christine Pedrick in the humorous won the right to compete for Fairfield, but was not listed among the final winners.

The freshmen upheld the standards of their class by retaining a half interest in the plaque won by the preceding freshman class. They tied for first place in the final ratings with John Catlett winning third place in the oratorical division, Florence Clark taking second place in the dramatic section, and Charmaine Nady winning first place in the humorous division.

The next Iowa Nine contest was the Iowa Nine Original Oratory and Extemporaneous contest held at Iowa City, April 26. Gordon Coleson competed in the original oratory section, Vannas Little in the Girls' Extemporaneous, and Ned Baker in the Boys' Extemporaneous. Vannas carried off the laurels in the Girls' Extemporaneous winning first place.

As a fitting climax to this forensic season, the State Declamatory Contest was held at Fairfield April 19, 1935. Catherine Clark reached the pre-district contest in the dramatic division before being eliminated and Christine Pedrick reached the sub-district contest in the humorous section. By winning the highest rating of speakers in the home contest and by virtue of the school's right this season to retain one speaker for the finals in the State Contest Pauline Coleson represented Fairfield in the oratorical division in the State Declamatory Contest. Giving the selection "How Much Land Does a Man Need?" Pauline won second place in the State finals against the best of the state's high school orators. As Pauline is only a sophomore, an even greater season is anticipated for her next year.

With the experience garnered this year by the underclassmen, Fairfield High hopes that next year's forensic season will reach the marks set in 1935.

Iowa Nine One-Act Exchange Plays

The Iowa Nine initiated a new program for plays this year. One-act plays were exchanged between various schools. Fairfield, Washington, and Ottumwa exchanged plays. On December 6, 1934 three plays were given by the three schools in the local auditorium. Ottumwa presented the play "Highness," a post-revolutionary Russian drama. Washington gave "The Wedding," a comedy. Fairfield gave a comedy, "Elmer."

"Elmer" was built around a young boy, Elmer Collier, who did not like to see his sister, Susan, mistreated by the rest of the family. Susan, the much abused sister, received an evening coat as a gift. Her older sisters, Jeanie and Janie, twins, tried to appropriate the coat for themselves with their mother's consent. Through a scheme which Elmer "cooked" up involving the thrilling entrance of a burglar into the house, the twins were defeated in their attempt to take the coat, and the honor of Susan upheld.

These plays were taken to both Ottumwa and Washington. At these places, Fairfield presented "Three's a Crowd," a light comedy based upon the problems of a young lover, Eddie Johnson, as portrayed by Tommy Loudon.

Eddie was pursuing a love affair with Madeline, Catherine Clark. Through the efforts of Elmer, a rival, Eddie was beaten out of the use of his father's car. As a result, he had to take Madeline and her younger sister, Ellen, to the dance on a street car. The conductor put them off before they reached their destination because Eddie did not have enough money for the fare. In the park where they were left, Eddie was trying to console Madeline and at the same time get her to walk on to the dance. Elmer, Eddie's rival, came by with Eddie's father's car and took Madeline to the dance. Eddie was left with Ellen and he decided she was not so bad after all. About this time Eddie's father came by looking for his car, for Elmer did not have his consent to use it. He took Eddie and Ellen to the dance and started looking for Elmer.

The plays were directed by Miss Gladys McClain. The casts of characters are as follows:

Red Domino

The Red Domino, Fairfield High School's dramatic club, has become quite a popular school organization. To be eligible for membership a student must have been in a play to which admission was charged, have been one of the six leads of the play, and have represented the school in some forensic contest. This year the organization sponsored the presentation of several one act plays which were given in Washington and Ottumwa. Frequent meetings of the group are held in the form of box suppers which were found to be quite popular.

The officers for 1934-35 were as follows:

President.....Gordon Coleson

Vice President.....Karlana Thoma

Secretary and Treasurer.....Virginia Van Nostrand

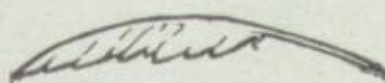

The faculty sponsors are Miss McClain, Miss Coffman, and Mr. Whittington.

FIRST ROW—William Laurier, Olabeth Coots, Robert Stortz, Mary Caroline Ford, X. Nady.

National Forensic League

The National Forensic League was organized in order to promote the interests of interscholastic debate, oratory, and public speaking by encouraging a spirit of fellowship and by conferring upon deserving candidates a worthy badge of distinction.

To be eligible for membership one must first of all be a student in a high school having a chapter of the National Forensic League. Then, by taking part in non-decision debates, contest debates, original oratory, declamatory, or extemporaneous speaking contests, one might receive the required number of credit points which would entitle him to a membership in the League and a badge of distinction as a reward for his activities in the forensic field.

When the time came to select the officers of the local chapter for this year, those elected by the votes of the other members were:

President, Virginia Van Nostrand, who has been a member of the debate team for the past two years. Vice President, Tom Loudon, who took part in non-decision debates. Secretary and Treasurer, Pauline Coleson, who takes part in declamatory contests.

Band Auxiliary

The Band Auxiliary, an unofficial organization, has been organized to further interest in music in the Fairfield Public Schools. At the present time its primary object is to raise funds for the band uniforms. The band capes and caps had been ordered by the auxiliary early in the year; but, owing to the lack of material, they have not arrived and will not be here until next fall.

The Band Auxiliary has participated in many activities in order to raise these funds. In the middle of October a "Tag Day" was sponsored to raise money for the uniform fund.

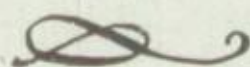

On November 14, the auxiliary presented two plays in the High School Auditorium. The names of the plays and casts are as follows:

"WEDDING BELLS FOR FATHER"

COACH—Phyllis Bradshaw

CHARACTERS—

Sue Robbins.....	Betty Gibson
Kit Robbins.....	Herschel Howell
Floyd Robbins.....	Joe Hendricks

"TROUBLE BREWING"

COACH—Mary Moorhead

CHARACTERS—

The second play was given at the H. S. Carnival.

Late in December the Band Auxiliary participated in a food sale.

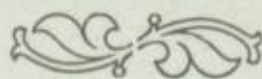

On March 14, the Rufus Rose Marionette Show, sponsored by the Auxiliary, gave two performances in the High School Auditorium. In the afternoon, they presented "Pinochio" for the high school chapel, in the evening "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves" for the public.

March the 18th, saw the first all-high school party which was given by the Auxiliary. Refreshments were served, dancing was enjoyed in the gym, and games were played by those attending. Later in the year another similar party was sponsored.

Senior Play

“Take Off Those Whiskers”

“Take Off Those Whiskers” was a farcical comedy in three acts written by Wall Spence. The play was the story of an actress, Laura Lee, who disappeared, and people seemed to think the Pomeroy family had something to do with the disappearance. Betty Brown and Jimmy Taylor, her boy friend, want to win $5,000 that Laura Lee’s friends have offered for her rescue. While in disguise in the Pomeroy home, they get into many amusing complications. The old grandmother, who insists on reading mystery magazines and books against the doctor’s orders, is very clever and furnishes a great deal of the amusement. There is a young love affair between Alma Burke and Buddy Leslie. The play ends with Jimmy and Betty getting the $5,000 and Laura Lee not being kidnapped. Throughout the play Jimmy and Betty are trying to disguise themselves, Jimmy wearing whiskers of different colors—red, brown, and black. It is from this that the play gets its name.

Operetta

For the first time since 1931 an operetta "And It Rained" was presented at Fairfield High School Auditorium, December 12-13, 1934.

"And It Rained" is a two-act comedy. The story of the operetta concerns a young girl, Maibell Rich, and her father who go to search for her father's friend, Steele Black, who has in his possession an antique mirror which Maibelle thinks he has stolen. They are stranded at the Wise Hotel because a bridge washed out in a rain storm. Dennis Black, who is coming home from college, and Maizie, his sister, who has run away from home, are also stranded here. They disguise themselves in order to find what the Rich's are doing. Mr. Black appears on the scene and everything finally turns out all right with his aid and the raising of the bridge which wins Maibelle over to Dennis.

"The Depression Blues"

Mrs. Bartlett, like many other present day mothers, suddenly becomes a victim of the depression when her three-thousand dollar-a-month income, left her by a deceased husband, unexpectedly dwindles down to a mere hundred and twenty-five dollars.

Miraculously, she manages to hold on to her credit, realizing that if her creditors foreclose they will get nothing for their efforts. However, she realizes that things can't go on forever in this manner so she hits upon a brilliant idea. Years before, her husband's brother, a millionaire bachelor, had offered to support the household in return for the companionship of the family. Mrs. Bartlett, hoping to improve the financial condition, invites him to spend the summer with them. He accepts, but imagine her horror to find that he, too, has been a victim of the hard times and, grateful for her offer, comes to live with them.

Bruce goes to work selling vacuum cleaners, Alma starts a lunch stand, and Glen looks for a job, for the bank has also closed. Lynn Milham sells her depression song and makes quite a bit of money. They all end by making money and Uncle Thatcher really has all of his money, so everything ends happily by singing the song, "Sing, Brothers, Sing."

Hi-Y

The Hi-Y is an high school organization of the Young Men's Christian Association. The purpose of this group is to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. The members endeavor to live up to the following principles: clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living.

The program committee of the local organization arranges for weekly programs of an inspirational nature. During the year, the business and professional men of Fairfield co-operated with the program committee by their willingness to give talks on Christian citizenship.

The social committee provides for such social events as the annual Hi-Y-Girl Reserve Mixer, stag parties, weiner roasts, etc.

This year the Fairfield Hi-Y accepted an invitation to unite with the Ottumwa Hi-Y in a father-son banquet.

The Iowa State Older Boys Conference is an event that is looked forward to by the officers and delegates of the Hi-Y. This year the boys were disappointed due to the Thanksgiving snow storm which blocked all highways to Mason City where the conference was held.

Next year the boys hope to attend the conference which gives them that inspiration which is needed for real leadership.

The officers for this year were as follows:

George Nixon.....	President
Paul McLean, Jr.....	Vice President
George McClain.....	Secretary - Treasurer
Mr. DeKalb.....	Faculty Sponsor

FIRST ROW—Harold Hadley, Dale Keller, Glen Hollender, John Koontz.

The second team, consisting of Howard Coffin, Roll Whitham, and Merlyn Anderson, placed second with a score of 1786.

The crops first team, consisting of Glen Hollender, Robert Meyers, and Dale Keller, placed second with 2272 points, and the second team, composed of Harold Hadley, Richard Leathers, and John Koontz, placed third with 2752 points. Sigourney won first.

The State High School Agriculture Contests were held at Iowa State College, Ames, May 7, 8, 9, 1934. Fifteen boys were taken to compete in various contests. George Stever, Albert Kann, and Howard Coffin competed in livestock judging and livestock management contests. Sixty-seven teams competed. Fairfield placed twelfth in judging and second in the management or information contest.

Harold Hadley, Glen Hollender, and John Koontz entered the crop judging, weed and plant identification, and crop management contests. This was the third year Fairfield had placed third in the crop judging. Eighty-six teams competed last year.

In the farm management contest Harley Holm, Charles Laughlin, and Paul Gilbert made up the team placing ninth.

Walter Zuehlke competing in the Future Farmer public speaking contest placed second. His topic was "Will Iowa's Farm Mortgage Debt be Paid?"

Elvin Fickle was elected to the honorary degree of Iowa Farmer for outstanding school and home practice work. He was the fifth member of our F.F.A. chapter to receive this coveted honor.

Future Farmers

The F.F.A. chapter of Fairfield is composed of students of Vocational Agriculture who have shown an interest in agriculture by having a carefully planned program of home project work. There are three ranks in the chapter; the Green hands for the first year students, the Future Farmer rank for those who have successfully completed two years of Vocational Agriculture, and the rank of Iowa Farmer to which 2 per cent of the Future Farmers of Iowa are eligible. The Fairfield chapter has five members who have been elected to this coveted rank: Raymon Sawvel, 1930; Lloyd Whitham, 1931; Donald Smith, 1932; Robert Miller, 1933; and Elvin Fickel, 1934.

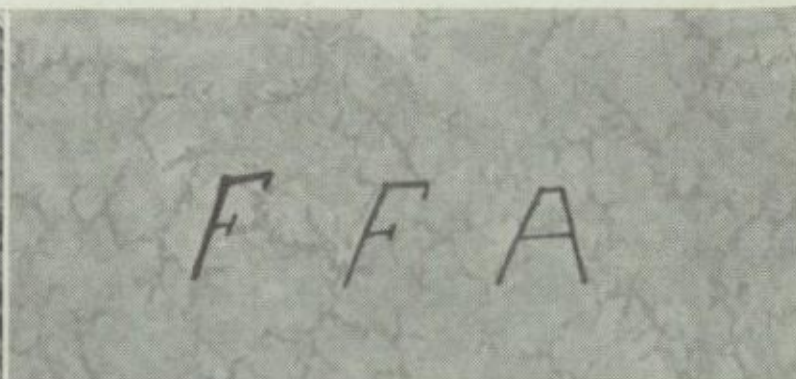

The chapter holds monthly meetings of a business and social nature. It helped to sponsor the Jefferson County Junior Agriculture Show; sponsored purebred hog sales; purchased feed co-operatively for members; has aided in obtaining credit for its members to finance project work; has participated in State High School speaking and agricultural contests; has conducted district judging contests; has co-operated in entertaining evening school men; and has sponsored the Father and Son Banquet and numerous other projects. Our membership has grown consistently until we now have a membership of about 40.

The officers are President, Walter Zuehlke; Vice President, Gerald Lundquist; Secretary and Treasurer, Elvin Fickel, Reporter, Robert Meyers.

Ames Congress

On May 10 and 11, 1934, four girls from the vocational home-making class, accompanied by Miss Youngquist, went to a non-competitive congress at Ames during the annual Veishea. They were Juanita De Good, Ida Mae Carlson, Helen Crable, and Wilma Grant. They were chosen because of their scholarship and unusual interest in Home Economics.

On May 10 the girls attended discussion groups on the subjects of related art, food, and nutrition. Each girl had her choice of a discussion group which was led by a senior home economics student. After the day's program, they were entertained at a tea given by the Ames High School class in homemaking. In the evening at a banquet at the Memorial Union, a cup was presented to Lyttow, the school which had brought the most girls the longest distance.

On May 11 there was the Veishea parade, and in the afternoon the home economics open house was held where all the phases of home economics were displayed.

S. P. Q. R.

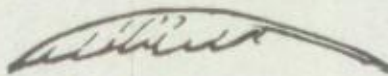

To be eligible for membership in S.P.Q.R. the student must be taking or have completed the second year of Latin. In number the patricians, those having completed two years of Latin, and the plebeians, those taking their second year of Latin, are quite evenly divided this year as there are 34 and 33 respectively. Instructive and interesting meetings were held the third Thursday in each month during the first thirty minutes of the school day. Talks, dialogues, plays, and living pictures made up a few of the entertaining and enjoyable programs. Much merriment was caused by the annual initiation party. A picnic was held during the second week of May at the Waterworks. This club provides social life for the students of Latin and creates and maintains their interest in learning about the Roman existence and in making practical application of the benefits of Latin in everyday life. Those officers working under the organization's competent adviser, Miss Calvert, are as follows: Consuls (president and vice president), Barbara Larson and Herbert Crow; Censor (secretary), Esther DuBois, Tribune (publicity chairman), Harold Johnson; Quaestor (treasurer), Joy Bangs; Aediles (program chairmen), Quentin Bates, Ely Finkel, Ruth Bonnell, and Barbara Crow.

Girls' Pep Committee

The Girls' Pep Committee is perhaps the most live wire organization in school. The members are all of the type who will exert their best efforts.

The method of selection of members insures this. Each year five girls are selected from each class. The five from the freshmen class are selected according to location in the city. Those in the sophomore class are selected from the class at large excluding those who served their freshmen year. Five are chosen from each of the two upper classes. Those chosen from the junior class carry over to the senior year.

Every year the Pep Committee gives a banquet for the football boys, and later in the season one for the basketball boys and the forensic participants. These banquets are enjoyed by all except those who have to speak afterwards. The banquets are supported by the sale of refreshments at the football and basketball games.

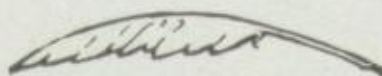

Another activity of the Girls' Pep Committee which calls for a lot of work is the preparation of pep stunts. This pep creation is necessary for the support of our teams before games. In fulfilling this work, the Pep Committee is aiding the school to a large degree.

FIRST ROW—Herbert Crow, Thomas Marr, George Fisher, Jimmy Powers, Wayne Tompkins, John Gillespie.

Boys' Pep Club

President.....	Quentin Bates
Vice President.....	Tom Loudon
Secretary.....	Robert Stortz
Treasurer.....	Jack Ward

This organization under the excellent guidance of Mr. Whittington has served the school by aiding, along with the Girls' Pep Committee, in the creation of pep through pep chapels.

During the course of the year the organization presented many well received pep stunts. These stunts ranged from a touching love scene from "Romeo and Juliet," to a very well presented and well received presentation of a magical display by a numble fingered young magician of local note.

In addition to this service, the organization has aided in manning the gates as ushers at local athletic contests.

Torch Club

The National Honor Society of Secondary Schools was organized in 1923. The purpose of this organization is to recognize and promote the four cardinal principles: character, scholarship, leadership and service. These four virtues symbolize the keystone of life and the torch of leadership and service.

Fairfield High School was granted its charter, the Torch Club, the local branch of The National Honor Society of Secondary Schools April 19, 1935.

Candidates eligible to membership shall have a scholastic rank in the first fourth of their class. Not more than fifteen per cent of a senior, or graduating class shall be elected to membership. The election of not more than five per cent of the junior class may take place during the last semester of the junior year. The election of not more than ten per cent of the senior class takes place before the end of the first and second semesters of the senior year.

The election of members shall be by the faculty, the senior class and a secret membership committee of the faculty.

Ottumwa Torch Club members initiated the twenty charter members on May 10, 1935. The charter members are:

New Pep Song?

The need for a real peppy "pep-song" at F.H.S. has been felt for a long time. To fill this need it was proposed that a substantial cash prize be offered to the person writing the song most suitable. Quite a number have been submitted but the judges have not made their final decision.

In place of the new "pep-song" which was to have appeared on this page we print a poem written by Albert Porter, already known as the composer of "Tantalizing Rhythm," one of the songs used in the Junior Specialties this year.

FAIRFIELD HIGH

*Fairfield has shown with glory bright
Increasing through the years,
And many heroes she has had to Honor with her cheers.
Her name, it stands among the first
In honor and in fame,
And evermore in history
It always will remain.*

*Then fight! Fairfield! Fight!
You who are so brave and strong.
We are here to rouse and cheer you with our song.
Our school so dear, its name we will defend
So fight! Fairfield! Fight Fairfield! Fight!
Until the end.*

*Our Trojan warriors scorn defeat,
Undauntedly they'll fight;
They fear no one with whom they meet,
They know no fading light.
Their hearts are ever with their school,
Discouraged never none;
They're always striving for the goal
Until it's lost or won.*

*Then fight! Trojans! Fight!
You men so brave and strong,
We are here to rouse and cheer you with our song.
Our school so dear, its honor we'll defend,
So fight! Trojans! Fight Trojans! Fight!
Until the end.*

Football Season

The 1934 football season was composed of many injuries and shifted line-ups, but in spite of this the gridders lost only two of their Little Six games and only one of their non-conference games.

Out of eighteen lettermen from last year, we had only three backfield men returning which meant the development of a line out of green and inexperienced material. But this inexperienced line showed its worth in the Mt. Pleasant game. Our backfield was very strong, but due to injuries it was always held under a handicap.

Nevertheless, we had one of the hardest fighting teams of the Little Six. Although always outweighed, our line held its own and made many courageous goal-line stands, while our backs were always ready to plunge us out of danger.

We finished the season by tying with Mt. Pleasant for third place in the Little Six.

ELDON vs. FAIRFIELD

Sept. 14—The game was played on a sloppy field with a light rain falling all the time. The Trojans entered the game with the well-known fight and pep and retained it all through the game, defeating the Pirates 47 to 0. Keller made long sweeping end runs for long gains with Henness going through the center of the line to keep up with him. Keller made 4 touchdowns, Henness 2, and Carter 1.

When you get married

Marry a man that will kiss your shirt.

Lettermen

FIRST ROW—Paul Oliver, Don McGiffin, Harold Teeter, James Wel-day, Paul Vannatta, Paul McLean.

SECOND ROW—Bob Elmore, Robert Harwood, Gordon Coleson, Jerry
Miller, Glen Rodenmayer, George Nixon, X. Nady, Glen Henness, Bob Carter, Ralph Salts.

BLOOMFIELD vs FAIRFIELD

Sept. 21—It started raining in the morning and rained up until the start of the game, but the field was not sloppy as it was during the preceding game. It was noticed that the Trojans had not lost the fight and pep during the week, as they walked over Bloomfield for a score of 27 to 0, holding Bloomfield powerless on the offense. Again Keller swept the ends for long gains and Henness went through the line for first and tens. Keller made 3 touchdowns and Henness 1.

OTTUMWA vs. FAIRFIELD

Sept. 29—We went to the home of the State Prep Championship holders, Ottumwa, for our third game. The F.H.S. gridders were outweighed by the Bulldogs besides showing a green team. The Bulldogs steamrolled a 27 to 0 score over the Trojans, although we put up a hard fought battle. Henness and Carter starred on defense for the Trojans by contributing many needed tackles.

WASHINGTON vs. FAIRFIELD

Oct. 5—We met our second Little Six opponent here with a great amount of vim and fight after our trouncing by the Bulldogs. The Trojans started clicking in the first half and scored 12 points. The first 6 points were put over by Carter on a line plunge after a sweeping end run by Keller.
The second 6 points came on an intercepted pass by Henness which he ran back 65 yards. In the second half the Demons came back with an over-abundance of fight and pushed over 6 points. The Trojan line then buckled up and held the Demons. Henness and Keller starred on the offensive for the Trojans by making many long runs.

ALBIA vs. FAIRFIELD

Oct. 11—The Albia game was a rest from the Little Six conference games. The touchdown came when the game was young on a pass from Teeter to Keller who toted the ball about 40 yards for a touchdown. Teeter's try for a point went wide, and the score was 6 to 0. From then on the game was even, with Albia having the slight edge during the last half. Keller showed up well on defense by getting quite a few tackles behind the skirmish line.

FT. MADISON vs. FAIRFIELD

Oct. 16—The Fairfield Trojans went to the Prison City for the next game and fell to the score of 26 to 0. The Bloodhounds scored in every quarter. The first score came in the opening minutes of the game on a fumble on the Trojan's 5-yard line. This seemed to discourage the Trojans as the Bloodhounds gained from then on at will.

BURLINGTON vs. FAIRFIELD

Oct. 19—We went to the home of the Greyhounds on a muddy Friday, but with the determination to show them a real game. The heavy Greyhounds leaped to the front in the first quarter with 7 points, which followed an end around play. But the fighting Trojans never gave an inch from then on. They came back in the second half with an over-abundance of pep, and by hard blocking and running in the fourth quarter Nixon put across 6 points on an end run. Nixon also came through with the extra point. Nixon starred in the backfield offense with many nice gains, while the whole Trojan line stood up like a stone wall on defense.

MUSCATINE vs. FAIRFIELD

Oct. 26—A squad of over-confident Trojans journeyed to Muscatine for a Little Six Conference game and fell to the tune of 32 to 7. This lost us the chance for second in the Little Six Conference. Coleson and Miller performed best on the line, and Nixon stood out in the backfield, making a 55 yard run for the Trojan's lone touchdown.

MT. PLEASANT vs. FAIRFIELD

Nov. 8—The Panthers came to Fairfield with the strongest line of the Little Six and the lust for victory, but the fighting Trojans' line wasn't bluffed an inch and made two goal line stands in the first and last quarters on the four and five yard lines. The Trojans, although badly battered and shaken up, stopped the clawing Panthers in a 0 to 0 tie. The Trojans also made a desperate attack, putting the ball on Mt. Pleasant's four yard line after a pass from Teeter to Nixon. But because of a bad pass from center, the Trojans found themselves on the fifteen yard line. They next tried three passes, but failed to connect. Nixon and Teeter starred in the backfield for the Trojans, and our line held perfectly when backed against its own goal.

NIXON—Back. Nixon, our most consistent blocker and ball toter, was the nucleus of the team, always adding the necessary pep.

COLESON—End. "Gordie" proved his ability to hold down an end by breaking end runs and getting down under punts.

ELMORE—Tackle. "Elmer's" size and ability to break up plays made him a great asset to the team.

HARWOOD—Guard. "Pete" though inexperienced at the beginning of the season turned out to be an excellent guard.

CARTER—Back. Bob was a hard fighting little half and contributed many tackles. He ran great interference, but due to injuries lost out on a few games.

KELLER—Back. Keller was a good plunger and hard fighter. This is his third letter.

RODENMAYER—Tackle. "Rody" always held up his side of the line with a lot of fight.

NADY—End. Hard work and a willingness to fight won Nady a letter.

HENNESS—Back. Glen was one of our fastest backfield men. He ran interference and was a consistent ball toter.

OLIVER—Center. "Pud," only a sophomore, played a good offensive and defensive game. He was awarded a place on the second Little Six team.

SALTS—Guard. Salts played a fighting game at guard and could always be depended upon.

McLEAN—Center. "Scoot," our honorary captain, although small, won his letter through his fighting spirit.

MILLER—End. "Bing," a sophomore, showed his ability through hard fighting and breaking up plays.

VANNATTA—Back. "Pollock" won his letter through hard fighting and consistent blocking and tackling.

McGIFFIN—Guard. Don received his letter through his ability to run interference and break up plays.

WELDAY—Guard. "Vermillion," a senior, played a hard steady game this year at guard.

TETTER—Back. "Slewfoot" playing at quarterback piloted the team all year. He was fast, a good blocker, passer, punter, and runner.

Jerry Miller

FIRST ROW—George McClain, Marvin Perry, Gordon Coleson, Bob Carter, Maurice Smessaert.

First Team Basketball

The first team of this year was composed almost wholly of the second team members of last year. Yet, in spite of the lack of seasoned veterans, the Trojans had the scrappiest basketball team of the Little Six circuit, even if they did not win all their games. At the tournament at Ottumwa, the Trojans were eliminated by the Bulldogs who went on through the finals.

Freshman Basketball

The Freshmen, playing against experienced teams of the County Six, made a very good showing. In league games they won 5 and lost 5, which is exceptionally good for inexperienced players playing against men that have had two or three years of experience. An example of experience was shown by the score of the Freshman and Second team game, most of the Second team being old members of the Freshman team. During the tournament, the Freshmen defeated Batavia to advance to the semi-finals where they fell before the well-coached Pleasant Plain team, the Champions of the County Six. The Freshman Seconds played three games, winning one and losing the other two by one or two points.

LEADERS—Virginia Van Nostrand, Burns Angell, Karlana Thoma.

MANAGERS—Tom Loudon, Mr. Repass, Roy Hoch, Bob Williamson.

Business Managers and Cheer Leaders

CHEER LEADERS

The Cheer leaders were selected early this year by popular acclaim. Virginia Van Nostrand, Karlana Thoma, and Burns Angell took upon themselves the noteworthy task of aiding the Pep Club and Pep Committee to create pep.

They started off right by making the students really yell, and they ran the yells in such a way that they were able to keep the spirit up between times.

They deserve a lot of credit because they have done a job well that has to be done, a hard one, and one which is absolutely necessary if the school activities are to be kept up.

MANAGERS

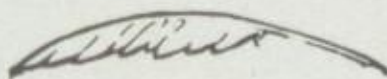

Roy Hoch, our check room expert, is the vendor of liniment, tape, towels, suits, and other athletic equipment. In doing this job, he has very completely filled the shoes left vacated by "Stew" Gaumer who graduated last year.

In the managerial duties, Bob Williamson, John Leech, and Tom Loudon are the ones who stand out in the rain taking tickets at the football games, the ones who take the job of looking up owners of stamp books in the different home rooms. They have a lot of miscellaneous duties that call for hard work, with but little commendation and general recognition.

Mr. Repass has the hardest job of all, that of managing the student managers. As the business manager, he sees that track meets and tournaments run smoothly, and he tries to manage the books so that the income equals the outgo, a truly "tough" assignment.

Track

The track season of last year had its bright places. There were several outstanding performances. The relay teams were successful in placing in practically every meet entered.

The track season was opened last spring with the Little Six indoor meet at Iowa City on March 23. Fairfield placed third in the meet. The one-mile relay team composed of Bob Heston, Black, Hoskins, and Nixon placed second, as did the two-mile relay team made up of Switzer, Perry, Little and Nixon. Roy Dabner won the 60 yard high hurdles in 8.2 seconds, and broke a meet record set by Crayne. Sinn tied for first in the pole vault.

In the state indoor meet the mile relay team placed third. Manary placed third in the pole vault. Dabner tied for fourth in the 60 yard high hurdles.

At the Oskaloosa relays Fairfield placed seventh, with Manary winning first in the pole vault and Sinn tying for second in the pole vault. The mile relay team was successful in winning third. Dabner placed in the 120 high hurdles and 220 low hurdles.

On April 27, Fairfield journeyed to Des Moines for the Drake Relays. The half-mile relay team of Nixon, Black, Bob Heston, and Dabner placed second. The mile relay team placed fourth.

At the Outdoor Little Six Meet the two-mile relay team of Meth, Anders, Perry, and Griffitts placed second. The half-mile and mile teams both placed third. Sinn placed second and Manary third in the pole vault. Black won second in his heat of the 440. Dabner won first in the 120 high hurdles.

At the district meet Dabner again won the 120 high hurdles and placed second in the 220 low hurdles. Nixon ran down a second place in the half-mile run. Black won his heat of the quarter mile, and the half-mile relay team won second.

The team closed the season with a trip to Fort Madison where Manary placed second in the pole vault.

THIRD ROW—Colonel Griffitts, Maurice Smessaert, Howard Keller, Bob Elmore, James Welday, Don McGiffin.

FOURTH ROW—Ralph Salts, Glenn Henness, George McClain, Dale Simmons.

Letter Club

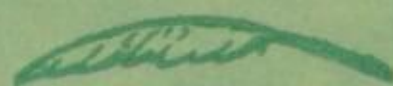

Through the efforts of Coach Gluenkin and the lettermen the Letter Club was organized four years ago. Since then the club has been very active sponsoring events to raise money to help activities.

The only requirement for membership is a major letter in football, basketball, or track. The Letter Club this year has a membership of 25, with George Nixon, letterman in football, basketball, and track as President; Howard Keller, letterman in football and basketball as Vice President, and Bob Williamson with five manager's letters as Secretary-Treasurer.

So far this year the Letter Club has sponsored a basketball game, with proceeds going to track, and one "feed," with the Letter Club's famous beans at the head of the menu, prepared by the talented chef, H. D. Repass.

Freshman-Sophomore Night

Instead of the usual sock fight between the Freshmen and Sophomores, the Fairfield High School has resorted to what is commonly known as Freshman-Sophomore Field Night.

This year it started at the Parsons College Alumni Field on the eve of September 20, 1934. During the continual drizzle the Freshmen began carrying off the honors with a sack race.

The ten member shuttle race teams of the Sophomore boys and Freshman girls gained victory. Then the sophomores pushed ahead by winning in the three-legged race.

A sheet of rain swept across the field as the Sophomore-Freshman boys' tug-o'-war ended. So ended the evening's activities leaving the score 39-37 in favor of the Freshmen.

Through the courtesy of the Rex and Orpheum Theatres, the two classes were allowed to see the second show free.

The field activities were resumed on September 25. Again the freshmen gained victory when the freshman girls pulled their rivals over the line in a tug-o'-war.

The sophomore boys defeated the freshmen 14-9 in kittenball, and the freshman girls won 10-4 from their opponents.

Members of the teams were:

BOYS—FRESHMEN:

Robert Egan, Robert Marr, William Zeigler, Rex Black, De Wayne Barton, Jay Munday, James Perry, Roy Six, Lawrence Nelson, Wayne Harreld.

SOPHOMORE:

Dale Davison, Robert McBeth, Richard Blough, James Kause, Robert Peavey, Paul Waterhouse, Paul Caviness, Milton Graham, Lawrence Heston, Robert Finley.

GIRLS—FRESHMEN:

Doris Willson, Sarah Switzer, Evelyn Hoskins, Rosalie Van Dyke, Evelyn Miller, Wilda Manning, Vivian Morris, Marion Lindsay, Florence Gorman, Evelyn Turner.

SOPHOMORE:

Alice Brown, Helen Lauth, Lois Hawkins, Betty Talbott, Catherine Clark, Julia Morgan, Marjorie Luke, Kathleen Maasdam, Darlene Hoskins, Pauline Coleson.

The final tally of the night was 64-52 in favor of the Freshmen.

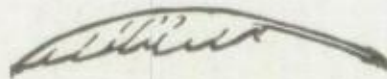

Freshmen Hallowe'en Party

On Monday, October 29, 1934, at 7:30 the freshmen initiated a new idea of having a class party. They held a Hallowe'en Party in the gym.

The gym was bright with decorations of orange and black in the forms of black cats, witches, pumpkin faces, and ghosts. Masks and costumes of all kinds were plentiful.

Games and contests furnished amusement for the hundred and twenty-one freshmen for an hour. Then the following program was given:

Tap Dance.....	Bettye Gaines
Tap Dance.....	Charmaine Nady
Duet (guitar accompaniment).....
.....	Eloise and Gwendolyn Hartman
Solo (guitar accompaniment).....	Florence Shanstrom
Reading.....	Dorothy Bates

Penny Carnival

On March 25, 1935, the doors of F.H.S. were thrown open to the public in a Penny Carnival! A thousand people enjoyed everything from faculty members' baby pictures to the pop corn popped in coffee pots because of the rush.

Home rooms had individual money making schemes. These were candy stands, freaks, bingo stands, a fish pond, ring-a-duck (and get a chicken), and other attractions. The dance floor and fish pond were the most popular events of the evening while the advertising contest of Miss Zeigler's home room brought in the most money.

In addition to the home room activities there were two big shows in the auditorium.

A portion of the proceeds of this carnival is to help the Ladies Band Auxiliary in their "uniform drive." The remainder goes to the track fund.

Pay Chapels

The monthly pay chapels are highlights of the school year. Through them we are taken to all parts of the world. On October 1, the Stanley-Hoskins company put on an electrical demonstration. The most of the program was taken up with the explanation of the photo-electric cell. October 18, Madame Slaviansky and her troupe, dressed in native costume, took us to Russia for a program of folk songs, interspersed with Russian dances. Next we took a trip under the sea with Bob Zimmerman, the deep sea diver, who gave us one of our best chapels. We saw many different kinds of marine animals, and Mr. Zimmerman also explained the way in which moving pictures are made under the sea. In November we accompanied the Davies Light Opera into the land of music. A little later in the month Philip Tordt, the snake man, passed his snakes around through the audience so that the girls might touch them. And then into the scientific world with Dr. Luther Gable and his lecture on radium, how it was discovered and to what use it can be put. Stanley Brookes took us back to Merrie England in the time of Dickens through his portrayals of characters in Charles Dickens' books. In March for the second time in two years we took a trip into doll land. Rufus Rose and his marionettes entertained us with the story of Pinocchio. On March 29, the far North was our destination. Richard Finnie showed motion pictures of Eskimo life. Mr. Finnie has spent several years among these people. The best chapel of the year with no exceptions appeared on April 9 in the Petrie Quintette. This was an instrumental and vocal company full of humor. They wore very attractive costumes. Our last chapel of the year was Sidney Landon who took us into the land of literature through his impersonations of Robert Louis Stevenson, Rudyard Kipling, and Mark Twain. This program was very entertaining to literature students and to the other students as well.

Play Day

Play Day was held in the spring of 1934 on Alumni Field at Parsons College. Every pupil of the four Fairfield grade schools, Washington, Logan, Roosevelt, and Lincoln took part. Last year the first performance on the program was a flag drill in which all of the students, about one thousand in number, participated. It was a very fine demonstration and showed much work on the part of Mr. E. D. Lange, the instructor of physical education, who had charge of the entire program. Then the different grades divided off and had a track meet with such events as dashes, the basketball throw, shuttle relays, broad jumps, and high jumps. The outstanding thing about this program was that each student and official kept a tabulation of points and then all of these figures were compiled. After the meet was over, a cup was given to the school having the most points. Roosevelt school has won this award each year. Then, according to the pupils, the best thing of the afternoon took place. Free ice cream cones were given to each student and then Play Day was over until another year.

Esther: Oh! Yes, she plays by "heart."

Gordon: Like "I Love You Truly."

V. Hammon: What are you doing, Irma?

I. Corey: Thinking.

H. Winn: What! You!

Irma: Oh, yes, I always think when I'm trying to get out of some work.

L. A.: Well, McGiffin, where are the rest of the fools?

D. McGiffin: I guess we're the only two here.

The other day Mr. Prizer stepped out of his room. When he returned, he found a poem on his desk. Some say that Quentin Fackler wrote it, but others say that Eliel Kirkpatrick composed it. Quentin said nothing one way or the other, and Eliel only grinned. Eliel did promise, however, to buy a QUILL if Mr. Prizer would print the poem in the annual. Here it is:

A BOOKKEEPER'S PSALM

Mr. Prizer is our teacher.

We shall not want another.

He maketh us to journalize his hard transactions,

He leadeth us through the trials of our trial balances;

He leadeth us in paths of learning

For our grades' sake.

Yea, though we walk into the class room

We shall fear no hundreds, for he is with us.

His grades do not comfort us.

He prepareth an examination before us

In the presence of our grades,

Our grades runneth low.

Surely ignorance and failure shall follow us,

And we shall dwell in this school forever.

Madelon Peterson: Jane, do you have a question?

Jane Coen who had a hand up: Oh! No!

M. Peterson: I see, Jane, just posing, yes?

At registration for second semester George Nixon to Mr. Saur:
Can I sign up for cooking?

J. F. T.: I think you need to take sewing too.

V. Hammon to Liz Graham in Shorthand: Do you know something exciting?

Miss Winn thinking that she should talk when not spoken to:
Who? Me?

Viv: No, but do you know any good jokes?

H. W.: I know lots of jokes.

V. H.: Yes, we know you do, but do you know any of the kind that can be put in the Quill?

Mr. Catlett: I see by the paper there is going to be an optional tuberculosis test up at the high school.

Elizabeth: I bet I'll have to have glasses.

We all guess the first hour physics class is getting rather rough when Richard Miller tears holes in his pants.

Mrs. Reed: Tommy, what are the four seasons of the year?

Tommy Loudon: Football, basketball, baseball, and track.

L. A.: Miller, who fought the Civil War?

Richard Miller: England and the U. S.

L. A.: In Sing Sing prison many modern amusements and commodities are enjoyed. They only work about 3 and a half hours each day.

Fligg: Let's go to Sing Sing.

Dorothy McNeeley: Is it true that wild animals talk to each other?

Bob Williamson: You ought to know.

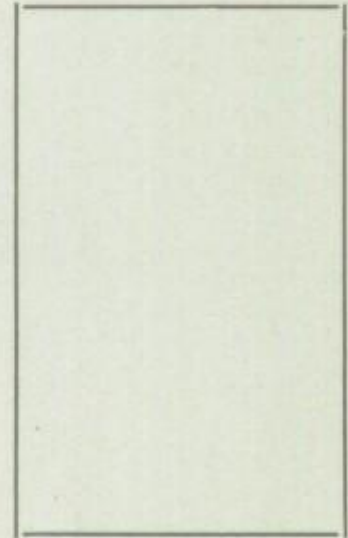

Floyd Whittington: Some years ago if a woman learned to drive a car, it was regarded as an accomplishment, something like swimming the English channel.

Don McGiffin: It still is if she really learns to.

Rodgers: Research means to search, then go search again.

In this school year of 1934-35, with all the revolutions and counter-revolutions; investigations and excavations; espionage and alphabetical combinations; up-liftings and down-liftings, it is time a stop was put to it all. This page is devoted to un-liftings. Fill out fully and your Quill will be lift-proof.
